“In the Church, holy yet made up of sinners, you will find everything you need to grow towards holiness. The Lord has bestowed on the Church the gifts of scripture, the sacraments, holy places, living communities, the witness of the saints and a multifaceted beauty that proceeds from God’s love, “like a bride bedecked with jewels”
- Pope Francis

“That special power of loving that belongs to a woman is seen most clearly when she becomes a mother. Motherhood is the gift of God to women. How grateful we must be to God for this wonderful gift that brings such joy to the whole world, women and men alike! Yet we can destroy this gift of motherhood, especially by the evil of abortion, but also by thinking that other things like jobs or positions are more important than loving, than giving oneself to others. No job, no plans, no possessions, no idea of “freedom” can take the place of love. So anything that destroys God’s gift of motherhood destroys His most precious gift to women – the ability to love as a woman.” – St. Mother Teresa

Catholic Charities Food Drive: Due to an increased demand and the strain on Catholic Charities’ budget because of inflation, they have asked the parishioners of St. Theresa to help them in their work to feed local people in need. We will be collecting items from the list CC provided us – copies are in the narthex to take home with you – for the next two weekends. The weekend of January 28 & 29 and February 4 & 5 we will have a table for your donations. I understand that everyone’s budgets are tight but anything you can contribute will help someone in need. Thank you for your kindness!

Mass Celebrating Black History Month: The Catholic African-American Awareness Group of Okaloosa County invites everyone to join them at Christ Our Redeemer Catholic Church , 1028 White Point Road, Niceville on January 29, 2023, at 2:00 pm for Mass with our Bishop William Wack to celebrate Black History Month. The Eglin Airforce Base Brotherhood Gospel Choir will begin the celebration at 2:00 pm. His Eminence Wilton Cardinal Gregory, Archbishop of Washington, DC, will be the homilist. All are welcome as we celebrate the long history of African-American Catholics in the United States.

Lay Formation Institute: Their vision is to offer quality spiritual, intellectual and human formation to lay people so that they are equipped to live out their vocation in the world. This program is geared to make you a more effective disciple of Jesus right where God has placed you in the world. The curriculum is focused on sanctifying the cultural spaces outside the usual reach of the institutional Church. Those who are passionate about bringing the presence of Christ to their families, neighborhoods, social circles, workplace and local community are ideal candidates for this program. A new group will begin in August of 2023. If you are interested go to <https://www.ptdiocese.org/layformationinstitute> for more information or contact 850-435-3523 or layformation@ptdiocese.org

“The Lord asks everything of us, and in return he offers us true life, the happiness for which we were created. He wants us to be saints and not to settle for a bland and mediocre existence.” – Pope Francis

The Church is Apostolic: The Church is apostolic because she is founded on the apostles, in three ways: 1) she was and remains built on "the foundation of the Apostles," the witnesses chosen and sent on mission by Christ himself; 2) with the help of the Spirit dwelling in her, the Church keeps and hands on the teaching, the "good deposit," the salutary words she has heard from the apostles; 3) she continues to be taught, sanctified, and guided by the apostles until Christ's return, through their successors in pastoral office: the college of bishops, "assisted by priests, in union with the successor of Peter, the Church's supreme pastor". (CCC – 857)

The Apostolate: The whole Church is apostolic, in that she remains, through the successors of St. Peter and the other apostles, in communion of faith and life with her origin: and in that she is "sent out" into the whole world. All members of the Church share in this mission, though in various ways. "The Christian vocation is, of its nature, a vocation to the apostolate as well." Indeed, we call an apostolate "every activity of the Mystical Body" that aims "to spread the Kingdom of Christ over all the earth."

"Christ, sent by the Father, is the source of the Church's whole apostolate"; thus the fruitfulness of apostolate for ordained ministers as well as for lay people clearly depends on their vital union with Christ. In keeping with their vocations, the demands of the times and the various gifts of the Holy Spirit, the apostolate assumes the most varied forms. But charity, drawn from the Eucharist above all, is always "as it were, the soul of the whole apostolate."

The Church is ultimately one, holy, catholic, and apostolic in her deepest and ultimate identity, because it is in her that "the Kingdom of heaven," the "Reign of God," already exists and will be fulfilled at the end of time. The kingdom has come in the person of Christ and grows mysteriously in the hearts of those incorporated into him, until its full eschatological manifestation. Then all those he has redeemed and made "holy and blameless before him in love," will be gathered together as the one People of God, the "Bride of the Lamb," "the holy city Jerusalem coming down out of heaven from God, having the glory of God." For "the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and on them the twelve names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb." (CCC 863-865)

“Whoever removes the Cross and its interpretation by the New Testament from the center, in order to replace it, for example, with the social commitment of Jesus to the oppressed as a new center, no longer stands in continuity with the apostolic faith.”

– Hans Urs von Balthasar
